More Workmen Forced Off Jobs By Coal Strike

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Unemployment continued today to sweep across the nation in the wake of the paralyzing mine shutdown as emergency users of soft coal began making demands upon the reserve supply.

Hundreds of schools were closed. Similar action is planned by others next week while still others are operating part time.

New layoffs were reported in the Youngstown, Ohio, steel industry. At least 10,000 were given furlough orders in the larger mills as more furnaces were taken out of production.

Furlough Railroad Men

Three hundred Pennsylvania railroad men were temporarily dropped from payrolls in Johnstown, Pa., over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Thousands of steelworkers are slated for early layoffs next week when finishing operations are completed. The Tri-state Industrial Association, composed of 131 fabricators and steel dependent firms, plan to reduce operation and cut employment 100,000 men unless the coal strike ends.

Most Detroit automobile manufacturers suspended production until Monday, partly to save coal and because they lack steel. Only General Motors, the Packard Motor Car Company and the Kaiser-Frazer Corporation will open today.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Soviet Urges Plan Outlawing A-Bomb

By GEORGE DURNO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 29.—A surprise Soviet proposal for international control and inspection of arms was before the United Nations today.

The Russian plan called also for outlawing of the atomic bomb.

A 54-member panel of the UN political and security council was set to debate it.

Maneuvering smartly, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov tossed the twin proposals in after half winning and half losing his battle on an armed force inventory.

The western powers agreed to the Russian demand for a census of allied troops in friendly states and ex-enemy territory.

Then they tacked on a tally of troops at home.

Molotov opposed this, but was outvoted.

Debate on the new Russian proposal promised to be complicated.

Foreign Ministers Seeking To Speed Up Treaty Action

Council Enthused After Solving Hotly Contested
Trieste Issue, Is Report

ACCORD IS NEAR ON DANUBE ALSO
By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The council of foreign ministers, jubilant after solving the hotly contested Trieste issue and within sight of an accord on the Danube, will meet for the 21st time in New York today to hasten agreement on all five treaties.

The sore point facing the Big Four at their 4 p. m. gathering in the Waldorf Towers will be reparations demanded of economically strained Italy and of a Bulgaria favored by Russia and Yugoslavia.

Council members predict a stormy meeting, with America and Britain anxious to shield Italian economy against assessments for war reparations exceeding the country's capacity to pay without causing economic collapse. Soviet Russia claims $100 million. Greece and Yugoslavia $100 million each and Ethiopia $25 million.

Got Approval At Paris
The Paris conference voted approval for that amount, although Yugoslavia in particular voiced demands for more. Soviet Foreign Secretary Molotov took the attitude that Russia was being generous with Italy in letting her off easy. Britain and the United States renounced all reparations claims.

The Paris conference voted that Bulgaria pay $65 million each to Greece and Yugoslavia, although the latter championed the gently Sofia regime as having been an "ally" and therefore not assessable in reparations. The Yugoslavs offered to settle for $15 million if Greece's share was cut down.

Tremendous Step Forward
But the Thanksgiving sessions of the council provided a tremendous step forward toward a general accord.

Coal Shortage Will Affect Some Churches

Survey of the larger churches throughout the city revealed today that many of the churches of the city will curtail their activities to Sunday morning services, eliminating all week-day activity, while the First Methodist church considers closing down entirely after next Sunday morning services until the coal situation is alleviated.

At the First Christian church, Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the church, reported that enough coal was in the church bins to operate Sunday services for the next four Sundays.

All services during the week at the church will be eliminated until the strike is over.

Rev. Oliver Hurst, pastor of the First Baptist church stated that enough coal was on hand at his church to continue normal operations and that no cancellation of services is planned.

At the First Presbyterian church, it was reported that enough coal was on hand to operate for some (Continued on Page Two)

Holiday Aftermath;
Cold Turkey Wings,
Sleepy-Eyed People

Sleepy people with a Monday-morning look and a memory of delicious food and happy visits with the rest of the family are evidence that Thanksgiving was one day ago and a big day at that.

In spite of being just a little bit cool, the day was ideal, with clear sky much of the time and clear roads for Thanksgiving travelers to drive over. Games were played on dry fields, and in the evening downtown New Castle was crowded with cars and pedestrians both.

Restaurants were rushed and theaters were full, with most people looking as if they had much that they could stop and be thankful for. Cold turkey sandwiches are in many lunch buckets today, and pumpkin pie is still left in a lot of cupboards.

Without a doubt the day was a "success." Now the town can get itself back in harness for the year's home stretch—the pre-Christmas season.

And on the day after Christmas everyone can go to work with a worse-than-Monday-morning look.

Annual Dance
Approximately 1,000 Persons Attend Fete Which Will Aid Police Pension Fund

Between 450 and 500 couples participated in the evening's entertainment. The dancing started and continued until 1 a. m. to good music.

The police held the dance annually to help their police pension funds. The net receipts of the affair are placed in the fund which is administered by a board composed of members of city council and also members of the Fraternal Order of Police.

The affair this year was a purely local promotion. The affairs were handled throughout by members of the organization.

Motion Of Lewis For Dismissal Of Charge Rejected

Court Also Holds Norris-LaGuardia Anti-Injunction Act Does Not Apply

LEWIS' DEFENSE
SUFFERS SETBACKS
By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today rejected John L. Lewis' motion for dismissal of contempt of court proceedings against the United Mine Workers leader.

A few minutes earlier the judge ruled that the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act did not apply in the government's efforts to halt the nationwide soft coal shutdown.

The court's ruling placed Lewis in jeopardy of being held in serious contempt of court for refusing to halt the walkout of 400,000 coal miners.

Recess Is Taken
At the request of counsel for defense, Judge Goldsborough recessed court at 11:45 a. m. (EST) until 2:30 p. m. (EST) the contempt trial was expected to proceed this afternoon.

Goldsborough, before announcing his rulings declared that the restraining order requiring Lewis to withdraw his notice terminating the miners wage agreement with the government had been issued to maintain the "status quo."

The court explained the order was intended to keep the agreement in effect until it had been judicially determined whether Lewis had a right to end the contract with the government.

Hits Lewis' Defense
Lewis' entire defense was based on the contention that the Norris-LaGuardia act prohibited the government and the court from issuing a restraining order.

The judge on Wednesday had said that if he found the Norris-LaGuardia act applied, his upholding of Lewis and the United Mine Workers would not "inconvenience" them even though they were found guilty of contempt.

But Goldsborough did not at that time indicate what course he would pursue in the event of Lewis' being found guilty of contempt as the result of a valid order of the court.

Denies Defense Contentions
The judge denied defense contentions that the court order impinged on the constitutional right of freedom of speech. He observed: "The court does not think that freedom of speech matters seriously in the present case."

Goldsborough, under previously announced procedure, was expected to begin Lewis' contempt trial.

The judge commented earlier that he considered an advisory law "non-sense" and there was a probability that he would proceed with the contempt trial without a jury.

Defense attorneys prior to the rulings had argued unsuccessfully that the contempt proceedings should be thrown out of court because they were "criminal" rather than "civil" in nature.

Right To Enjoin
The judge held that a "court of equity has the right to enjoin labor unions about to do something against the public interest and ultimately against the union itself."

Goldsborough admitted that failure of the government to specifically charge Lewis with criminal contempt "appears to be a mistake" but added that it was not of "substantial dimensions" to dismiss the citation.

The judge, discussing the restraining order, stated: "What the government sought to do was hold a matter threatening the public interest—a matter threatening the nation's coal supply."

Whitman Poem Starts Argument At Books Forum

Creating both interest and arguments, the controversial Whitman poem "Song of Myself" was studied at the Great Books Forum in the assembly room of the Public Library Tuesday evening when Franklin Blanning was the leader.

For the last session of the forum before Christmas, on Wednesday, December 11, the group will study Shakespeare's "MacBeth" with James R. Green as the discussion leader. The date of the meeting has been changed from Tuesday until Wednesday in order to secure Mr. Green's services.

The steering committee of the forum will meet sometime within the next ten days to plan the schedule for the series of meetings beginning in January.

Former Owner Of Cocoanut Grove Is Given Full Pardon

Barnett Welansky Has Served Three Years And Seven Months Of Prison Sentence

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Barnett Welansky, former owner of the Cocoanut Grove, was free Wednesday under a full pardon on the eve of the fourth anniversary of a Holocaust at the night club that took 498 lives.

The pardon was approved by the governor's council after he had served three years and seven months of a 12 to 15 year prison term for manslaughter.

Welansky, doomed by specialists to die within a year from an incurable disease, was put to bed upon his release.

Welansky was not at the night club November 28, 1942, when a sudden flash fire swept the club and took the lives of the 498 patrons.

More Involved In Big Swindle

Assistant Bank Vice President Held As Material Witness In Sensational Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(INS)—New names were drawn into the spectacular $780,000 Mergenthaler Linotype company swindle today.

Lewis Lados, 35, who until Monday was assistant vice president of the Hellenic Bank & Trust company was held in jail as a material witness in lieu of $100,000 bail.

Lados resigned his position at the bank was said by authorities to have been of aid to Jimmy Collins, Hollywood and Broadway character in cashing Mergenthaler company checks.

Collins, William A. Nickel, the $100 a week Mergenthaler company cashier; Isadore Rappaport, wealthy real estate operator; and Irving, (Izzy the El) Cohen were indicted yesterday by the Kings County Grand Jury. The indictment contained 470 counts and the four were held under bail totaling $750,000.

Lados said he had met Collins and Julius Lobel in the hotel suite of former Governor David Sholtz of Florida. He told authorities Lobel had an account in his bank and that he had initiated a signature card for him. Police charged that Collins used this card to cash $178,000 worth of Mergenthaler company checks made out to the "A. O. Schumacher & Sons" firm.

Former Governor Sholtz said it was "impossible" for Lados to have met Collins at his hotel suite.

Urges Instruction By Use Of Radio As Schools Close

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, today urged instruction by radio in areas where schools are closed because of the coal shutdown.

Miller, in a letter to radio station managers throughout the nation, suggested that "each station could contribute enough quarter or half-hour periods daily during the emergency to permit the continuation of general instruction."

The NAB head pointed out that such subjects as history, geography, literature, and music appreciation should lend themselves well to radio treatment.

SALES PSYCHOLOGY HELPS

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—The War Assets Administration is banking on sales psychology and product research to help it dispose of slow-moving surplus items.

For example, WAA officials said they offered "scent water soap" at prices as low as six cents a pound. Despite the shortage of soap, the product went begging until someone changed the tactics. Advertised as an all-purpose laundry and hard water soap, the entire stock disappeared in 48 hours.

Product research is utilized in such cases as that of surplus camouflage sticks used by troops for skin camouflage. WAA has turned the sticks over to the Food and Drug Administration hoping to find a method of reclaiming valuable basic ingredients through a chemical breakdown.

British Accused Of Maintaining Troops

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(INS)—The Soviet Monitor revived the allegation today that the British are maintaining a "black reichswehr" of German troops within their occupation zone of Germany.

The report based on a Berlin dispatch to Pravda, quoted a letter from an alleged member of the it-legal army purporting to show that it would be used against the Germans themselves in the event of trouble.

MARYLAND TOWN TO HAVE LIGHTS DESPITE BROWNOUT

SALISBURY, Md., Nov. 29.—(INS)—No brownout is going to dim the Christmas cheer in Salisbury. The city's neon-lighted Yuletide decoration will brighten the downtown streets as scheduled tonight

A portable gasoline generator donated by a former resident will furnish the current to light the holiday decorations which have been wired for the first time since the war.

Seven states—Mississippi, California, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee and Washington—have adopted birth cards instead of certificates.

Slippery Roads Make Low Speeds Imperative Point

State Police Warn Motorists With Bad Driving Weather Few Weeks Off

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Motorists should reduce speed and drive with extreme caution at the first sign of slippery roads, instead of waiting for a bad skid to convince them that the comparatively safe highway surfaces, to which they have been accustomed for the last several months, may suddenly become slippery death traps, according to a warning issued from Pennsylvania state police headquarters today.

"With an unseasonably warm and pleasant fall drawing to a close, we can expect sudden storms which will increase driving hazards," said Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of the state police.

Issue Warning
"That dry, smooth road, which the motorist has been stretching invitingly ahead for so many months, may suddenly become coated with ice and snow. This condition may be encountered in many places, but is likely to appear first in the mountainous areas. Even a few feet of slippery highway may spell sudden disaster for the unwary driver."

"In addition to careful operation of the car, every driver should carefully check the condition of his vehicle to see that tires and all safety devices are in good condition. Tire chains should be examined to see that they are in good repair."

Trio Is Held In California Home Lootings

Ex-Convict, Two Girls To Answer Charges For Stealing $100,000 In Valuables

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Two girls and a young ex-convict were to appear in court today for a hearing on charges that they looted the homes of film personalities and wealthy Pasadena residents of $100,000 in furs, jewelry and silverware.

Those facing the charges are Clinton Bohn, 23, who was paroled from San Quentin, (Cal.) prison after being sent there for burglary; his girl friend, Lucille Bargas, 22, an escapee from State School for Girls at Ventura, and Mary Barrymore, 23, waitress. The Barrymore girl is not related to the famous Barrymore family of stage and screen.

The three suspects were rounded up by Beverly Hills police yesterday after Miss Barrymore had been traced through her use of the social security card of one of the alleged ring's victims.

Listed as victims of the trio were Director Gregory Ratoff, who lost $10,000 in jewelry; film producer Arthur Fred, who was robbed of a total value of $25,000; Edmund Lowe Jr., who lost $5,000 worth of silverware and jewelry; and Edward H. Groenendyke Jr., Pasadena oil executive, who was robbed of $10,000 in furs and silver plate.

Police said that about half of the loot had been recovered and that another $25,000 has been traced to pawn shops and will be recovered. Most of the expensive silverware was traced to an antique shop called, ironically, the Thieves market.

Blonde Woman Key Witness In Puzzling Death

Socialite Last Seen With Textile Executive; Body Is Found In Woods

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 29.—(INS)—An attractive, socially prominent blonde was regarded by authorities today as the key witness in the investigation of the mysterious death of Col. Donald R. Green, 52, Holyoke textile company executive.

Investigators said the woman was seen in Green's company several hours before his unclad body was found early Sunday in the woods in Easthampton. Authorities said she was a guest with him at a cocktail party at the home of a Smith college professor.

District Attorney Harold I. Grausbeck announced all investigators and all guests at the cocktail party, including Smith faculty members and girl students, have been summoned to a meeting at the State police barracks.

This meeting was expected to bring a solution to the mystery of Green's death.

DARING ROBBERY PULLED WITH CAR OF YORK SHERIFF

YORK, Pa., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Police were on the lookout today for the man who stole the York county sheriff's car and used it to effect a cleaning plant robbery netting ten fur coats valued around $5000.

Henry Trimmer, 65, a night watchman, said the man showed him the eight-cylinder car carrying a sheriff's shield and told him to open the plant for an "inspection". When he did so, Trimmer told police, the thief slugged and tied him to a chair before escaping with the coats yesterday.

Studying Byrnes Reply On Wounding Of Ukraine Envoy

Secretary Of State Tells Foreign Minister Incident Not Political One

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(INS)—The replay of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on the wounding of a delegate to the United Nations by a gunman during a delicatessen store robbery was studied today by Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dimitri Manulsky.

Byrnes told Manulsky that a thorough check by the New York police department had disclosed that the robbery was without political significance and that Gregory Stadnik, the delegate, had been the victim of a routine stickup.

Manulsky had termed the shooting of Stadnik as "political banditry".

Byrnes wrote: "While we deeply regret that a delegate to the general assembly should have been the victim of this crime, I know you will be glad to learn that in the opinion of the police commissioner, based upon the evidence of eye witnesses, it was not, as you feared, a premeditated attempt to kill two members of your delegation."

Stadnik was shot in the leg by one of two gunmen during the robbery. Stadnik entered the store with a companion as the robbers were leaving. Police said it was probably that the thugs thought Stadnik was a detective or that Stadnik had failed to obey promptly a "hands-up" order.

Reveal Probe Of Willow Grove Plant Leasing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Hugh Wise, chief counsel of the house surplus property committee, revealed today that the leasing of the giant Willow Run plant by the government to Henry J. Kaiser and Joseph W. Frazer has been under investigation.

Wise stated that on the basis of "preliminary findings" he has recommended to Rep. Slaughter (D) Mo., committee chairman, that no action be taken on a charge that the government made a bad deal when it leased the giant wartime plant near Detroit to the two industrialists. The plant is now being used for the production of automobiles.

Stolen Documents Returned By Girl

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—The London Evening News today printed the strange story of the theft of top-secret documents and their return to police by a girl in Hyde Park.

The documents, confidential papers outlining details of Britain's newest airplane engines, were stolen from the automobile of scientist G. I. Finch last night.

Scotland Yard was notified and marshalled its forces to begin an intensive search. Suddenly, however, a girl returned the documents to police.

Banana Industry Has Made Great Progress

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LA LIMA, Honduras, Nov. 29.—Senorita Banana has traveled far since her somewhat dubious debut in the Chicago World's Fair just before the turn of the century. The importance of the banana firmly established during the war, when the shortage of the tropical fruit resulted in a banana black market, but all that time bananas were rotting on the jungle plantations because of lack of boats to ship them.

Today the wheels of machinery are rolling in these same jungles. Modern irrigation has been introduced. Thousands of former peons are employed at gainful wages, land and sea and air are used—all so that little Johnny in the states can go to the store and buy a banana.

At La Lima, Honduras, today they are cutting bananas in a torrential downpour—for it's that season and the natives were handling the "easy-to-bruise" fruit as gently as babies.

Temperamental Fruit

The banana is temperamental even before it reaches that don't-put-me-in-the-refrigerator state. It has to be cut at a certain time, and there's only a day or two leeway.

It takes two men to cut one bunch, tree and all. The "cutter" pricks the 25-foot fibrous tree with a knife so that it will bend slowly, and the "backer" stands by to catch and cut the bunch with a tremendous knife as it swings downward. It must be handled tenderly, even when green.

Although the tree is felled with its fruit not able to bear again, the original stock continues to send up shoots. They are carefully pruned, leaving three at various stages, so that three annual crops were produced. It takes 10 to 12 months for a tree to bear.

The bananas are hauled mule-back from the interior of the 800-acre farm to the plantation borders. They used to be taken down the river by barge to the boats, but the large fruit companies have built tracks around the farms. There are almost no roads in Honduras.

Fruit companies control all of the shipping today and a large majority of the production. Drainage, irrigation and spraying for banana diseases present problems that it is said make small scale farming impractical.

Control 75% of Crops

The United Fruit company controls 75 per cent of the bananas in Central America. Their cuttings today—75 carloads—traveled by rail to Puerto Cortes, 50 miles distance on the Atlantic coast. In three or four days the banana boat will dock in New Orleans, Mobile or Charleston.

The banana knows no season now, due to a high pressure irrigation system which simulates rainfall during the long, dry spell.

Revolving nozzles throw out 500 gallons of water a minute over an area of three and one-half acres.

Greatest hazard to the banana farmer is strong winds, which can lay a crop flat on the ground overnight.

On the United Fruit officials said there will probably be a banana shortage for several years, since there could be no expansion during the war time to meet the normal post-war increased demand.

However, he said United Fruit would ship 11 million bunches of bananas from Honduras alone this year, while the country would probably export 17 million.

Multiply that by 125 (average bunch)—and that's a lot of bananas for Johnny from the Honduran jungle.

Frank Krause' Eye Treated In New York

Word has been received from Frank Krause of East Brook, from New York City, that his doctor is optimistic as to the condition of his eye.

On September 17, Mr. Krause underwent an operation on his eye, which has been affected with an inflammation at St. Clair's hospital, that city. Dr. Castroviejo of Yale performed the operation.

For the past four weeks, Mr. Krause has been staying at the Pennsylvania hotel and is still having eye treatment.

A Letter On Christian Living

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN C. REEL
(The International Reform Lesson on the above topic for Dec. 1 is Acts 19:1-20:1; Ephesians, the Memory Verse being Ephesians 4:32, "Be ye kind one to another.")

Paul went to Ephesus, a great Greek city located in Asia Minor. There he found a number of brethren and he asked them if they had received the Holy Ghost. They replied that "We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost." He asked them by whom they were baptized and they said by John the Baptist. Paul said John baptized "with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on Him, which should come after him, that is, Christ Jesus."

They then willingly were baptized in the name of Jesus and the Holy Ghost fell upon them, "and they spake with tongues, and prophesied." There were about 12 of these men.

Paul, as he preached and taught both Jews and Gentiles, became the object of much opposition, so that at last he thought it best to continue his work in the school of one Tyrannus, and here he continued for two years. "God also wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul, so that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them."

Certain "vagabond Jews, exorcists" decided they too would drive spirits out of those possessed and profit by it, by saying, "We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth." Seven sons of one, Sceva, a Jew and chief of the priests, did this, but the evil spirit possessing a man answered, "Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye?" Then the man in whom the spirit was leaped upon the brothers and beat them so at last they fled, "naked and wounded."

Unbelievers Were Afraid
Jews and Gentiles alike heard of this and were afraid, and "the name of Jesus was magnified." Many believed and confessed their misdeeds, and others brought their magical books and publicly burned them. "So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed."

Now there arose a different opposition, for one Demetrius, a silversmith who made silver shrines for Diana, which brought a good living to him and his fellow craftsmen, called the workmen together and pointed out to them that Paul was turning people away from the worship of Diana, and so they were losing trade; the "temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshipped."

The workmen grew angry, crying, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," which filled the whole city with confusion. The men caught two of Paul's companions, Gaius and Aristarchus, and rushed with them into the theater. Paul tried to get in, too, but was prevented by his friends. The town clerk, or mayor, however, quieted the people, saying, "Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?" "Seeing that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly. For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess. Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and these are deputies; let them implead one another."

He assured them that if they had anything against any man, it should be determined in a lawful assembly, without uproar. So saying he dismissed them, preventing probable bloodshed.

Paul Goes to Macedonia
After all this Paul called his disciples to him, embraced them and departed for Macedonia.

Ten years later Paul, now a prisoner, wrote his letter to the Ephesians, the fourth chapter of which is assigned to our lesson.

This fourth chapter of Ephesians is so full of gems of wisdom and advice on Christian living, that it is impossible to quote much therefrom. It should be earnestly studied by the teacher and the pupils, and learn at least some of the passages by heart where they will be remembered in later years.

He reminds the Ephesians that as Christians they must put away their former sinful feelings and "be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."

"Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor; for we are members of one another. Be ye angry and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath."

"Let all bitterness, and wrath and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice."

"And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake, hath forgiven you."

New Program For War Surplus Sales

The Cleveland Regional Office of the War Assets Administration has started a new program of advertising that will provide a weekly listing of all war surplus property and material that is currently for sale within the region.

The first of these listings, to be carried each Monday in this paper, appeared this week.

Heretofore, the WAA's policy has been to advertise individual sales and particular types of surplus. Under the new policy, however, the WAA provides a complete listing of current offerings.

DANCE ETIQUETTE

"Is it permissible for a man, at a dance, to leave stranded a woman with whom he had just danced? Recently this happened to me. I was talking (during intermission) to a girl who had just danced with me, having the next dance taken, and left me in the middle of the floor. I, by the way, did not have the next dance. Wasn't he remiss?"

Answer: I think you were left in a spot. If he already had a partner for the next dance, he should have taken you to a seat among your friends. He should not have left you stranded in the middle of the floor. Let that be a lesson to you! The next time insist on being brought back to your friends as soon as you have finished dancing. Doubtless, if you had not given your intermission to him, you would have had a partner for the next dance. Every girl must look out for her own interests.

Question: Please give me some information on bridesmaids' gifts. What should they be and when should they be presented?

Answer: The bridesmaids and the maid-of-honor receive gifts from the bride at a luncheon or tea some time before the wedding. If the family is wealthy, these may be gifts of jewelry—wrist watches, expensive clips, pins or gold compacts. Sometimes (though not often) these gifts are accessories for the bridesmaids' wedding ensembles.

Question: Is it permissible to have a maid and a matron of honor? Answer: Yes, it is permissible but not essential since only one can perform the duties such as holding the bride's flowers, arranging her veil and train, etc.

Crucible Steel Has $20,000,000 Expansion Plans

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—A $20,000,000 improvement program of the Crucible Steel Company is featured in this week's roundup of new and expanded industry in Pennsylvania as reported by the state department of commerce.

Crucible is planning to spend approximately $20,850,000 at its plant at Midland, Beaver county, the department reported.

The program calls for expanding its production facilities as well as replacing some war-worn equipment.

Included in the total is $12,500,000 to expand mechanized production of wide steel sheets, primarily of stainless and other alloy steels. Two new rolling mills, one of them reversing, will be utilized, and some of the units for hot-rolled and cold-rolled sheets may require two years for building.

Bible Class Packs Baskets At Meeting

Numerous homes about the city Tuesday evening, were cheered when in response to a rap at the door a wellfilled Thanksgiving basket was found with meat and all the trimmings for a nice Thanksgiving dinner.

The baskets, the efforts of the Nellie Constance and Mabel Ryan Bible classes of the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, were packed at the home of Mrs. Goida Moon, 476 Neshannock avenue, after which the class members went out in cars depositing the baskets on doorsteps of the deserving about the city.

Twenty-one baskets of groceries were packed and seven baskets of fruit were distributed during the evening.

A short business meeting of the women was held preceding the basket packing, at which time plans were discussed for the Christmas gathering of the members when a gift exchange will take place.

CONTRACT AWARDED

pany a contract for the construction of a sanitary sewer to extend from the east side of South Mill street, at Taylor street, across Mill street, thence west in Taylor street 200 feet at a low bid of $926. ## A GIFT That SANTA Cannot Give!

It has been said that only illness can make a person appreciate fully the value of good health. Truly it is a gift beyond price . . . more precious than jewels . . . more desirable than wealth. But good health isn't found in Santa's sack. It is found, in many cases, in the little black bag your doctor carries with him. Through the medium of the instruments it contains, he is able to diagnose the ailment and prescribe the proper treatment. Help your doctor to help you by bringing his prescription here where pure, fresh drugs will be weighed, measured and mixed with painstaking precision.

Junior Dance Has Large Attendance

Dance At NeCalli Features Conga
Line Led By 'Bridie'; 350
Present Wednesday Eve

Featuring a conga line led by Coach Phil Brienbaugh, the Thanksgiving dance sponsored by the junior class of Senior High school Wednesday evening was attended by about 350 high school students.

The committee had decorated the school gymnasium with yellow and green streamers, worked into an intricate criss-cross design on the ceiling, and on the pillars at the side were pictures of Puritans, painted by Earlen Stredler.

Gayle Mielke won the door prize, which was a home-made apple pie baked by Mrs. P. M. Rowland, mother of the class president, Cliff Rowland.

Assisting the class president in making the dance a success were Phyllis Turner and Jane Urban, who made the dance programs; Sid Lockley, who had charge of refreshments; Charles Coburn, who handled the publicity; Pauline Christos and Norma Long, tickets; and Jane Urban, invitations. With these chairmen worked a large group of juniors.

About half of the attendance at the dance was sophomores, who seldom turn out in such numbers for a school dance.

Union High Juniors Dance Wednesday

Union High school juniors sponsored a dance in the school gymnasium Wednesday evening for a group of 150 or 200 students, including guests from Lovellville High school.

For the dance, the gym was decorated with maroon, green and white. Faculty advisers Miss Dorothy Wadlinger and Miss Angeline Casarucci were given attractive corsages of fall flowers for their assistance to the class.

General chairman was Tom Vetter, president of the class, and other chairmen were: refreshments Eddie Baranski; tickets, Jack Peterson; decorations, Tom Wallace; and entertainment, Sally Lou Mastic.

Miss Erma Paden, Mr. and Mrs. John King, and J. Arthur Turek were guests of the class at the dance.

INSULATION SAVES WINTER FUEL COSTS

Preventing heat leaks by use of weather stripping, storm sash, insulation and caulking to close cracks around windows takes on added cash value with each new rise in the cost of fuel.

Heat radiates rapidly through window glass, resulting in a heat loss which is best checked by use of storm sash. In new construction, double pane insulating glass, where the view is not a factor, glass insulating blocks may be used to good advantage.

Ceiling insulation is highly recommended where the attic need not be heated. Otherwise, insulation should be applied against or between the rafters. Side-wall insulation, when properly placed, helps save heat, but at more cost for comparable results in old houses. Cold walls absorb heat from occupants and make them uncomfortable.

In new buildings it is well to include insulation in the side walls. The practice of plastering directly on concrete blocks or masonry side-walls requires more heat in the room for the same feeling of comfort as experienced with warm walls.

Weather stripping of doors and windows helps prevent the escape of warm air and cuts down on the fuel bill, and savings also can be achieved by closing spaces around window and door frames by use of caulking compounds.

City Directed To Return Fine

Opinion Handed Down By Court In Appeal Of A. J.
Casacchia

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

In an opinion and order handed down Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Braham, the City of New Castle is directed to return a fine of $50 to Angelo J. Casacchia and also to pay the costs of the case. The case was one in which a certiorari had been issued, being the record of an arrest and sentence of Mr. Casacchia by Mayor Haven on June 23, 1946.

Mr. Casacchia was arrested early in the morning as he came from his cafe, the arrest being made by Policeman Victor Cubellis. Mr. Casacchia posted a forfeit and later in the morning, which was Sunday, appeared before the mayor on a charge of disorderly conduct, and resisting an officer. He was fined $50. This he appealed and the certiorari was issued.

The appeal was heard by Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree sitting en banc. Judge Braham wrote the opinion and it is a lengthy one. Among other things he said was this: "Where one is arrested on view on Sunday for violation of a city ordinance, and is required to post a forfeit for appearance at a hearing on Sunday and when despite defendant's plea of not guilty, a hearing is held and the defendant convicted and sentenced on Sunday, the sentence is void."

"The right to arrest upon view for a breach of the peace committed upon Sunday gives no right to hold a hearing and impose sentence upon Sunday."

"The hearing of witnesses and imposition of sentence are judicial and not ministerial. Where a mayor sits as a magistrate to try a violation of a city ordinance, and defendant pleads not guilty, the witnesses must be sworn and a sentence in such case which is based upon unsworn testimony is void. "The law favors worship and rest upon the Sabbath. It prohibits unnecessary work and it seems the law itself should not work."

FOUR ARE SENTENCED

They were charged with having robbed G. W. Bailey on September 14. All pleaded guilty.

NEEDS A HOUSE

Before Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday was a case of eviction of a tenant which drew the sympathy of the court. Charles L. Wharton, a veteran of World War 2, married and with two children has lived at 730 East Washington street. The owner wishes to occupy the place himself and after having given the six months period of time permitted, started eviction proceedings.

Mr. Wharton goes to Grove City college in the daytime and works in a plant in Grove City at night. He has tried every way to get a house in Grove City, even having handbills printed, offering a reward for information leading to his getting a home.

The need was stressed from one of the pulpits in Grove City and several letters were sent in to the court from Grove City verifying Mr. Wharton's statement that he had done everything he could to get a place.

He is willing to move if he can find a place to move and there the question lies. Judge Braham gave him until December 11 to find a home.

Probe Marriage Of Michigan Man To Girl Aged 13

Factory Employee Admits Falsifying
Teen-Aged Wife's Age
To Get Married

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 29.—(INS)—Marjorie Sage Baker of Lowell and her husband, Martin, repeated their vows of love today—but prospects for wedded bliss are dim.

The 23-year-old husband is in Kent county jail while detectives investigate the two-month old marriage.

Marjorie, a former seventh grade student—and only 13 years old—is in the custody of a deputy sheriff. Marjorie's youth was disclosed when her husband applied for welfare aid because, he claimed, ill health will prevent him from working.

Detectives quoted Baker, a Lowell factory employee, as admitting he falsified his teen-age wife's age. He added:

"I loved her then and I love her now. All I want is to get this mess settled and go back to my wife." Marjorie, complete in bobby sox and babydoll, affirms:

"I still love him and want him to come back to me."

Mother Signed Consent
She explained that her mother signed the consent "because she would rather do that than have us run off and get married behind her back."

Marjorie's mother was wed last Tuesday and her 18-year-old sister, Marian, was married Wednesday night.

Bride And Groom Of Fifty Years Ago Say They Had Troubles Too

This year's crop of November brides and bridegrooms have been getting a lot of sympathy because of high prices, housing shortages, uncertain futures, and the remains of rationing, but Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hockenberry of 921 Maryland avenue don't feel so sorry for the newlyweds.

"Sure, they have their troubles, now, but we did too. After all, we got married on a dollar a day."

Rode In Buggy

The Hockenberrys had a November wedding fifty years ago Saturday, in the Mt. Zion church. They rode in to Butler for their license the day of the ceremony (you didn't have to wait then) in a buggy, which was pitched around over the frozen ruts of the road until the young bride wondered if they would make it.

Her gown was a dove-colored brocade trimmed with frothy white lace, and her hat was a creation of black velvet and white plumes that would look like the newest 1947 design if it were placed in a shop window now. Mr. Hockenberry's outfit, however, was 1896 and nothing else—wing collar, Prince Albert coat, and all.

Prices Of Those Days
Living on a farm in Butler county, the young couple paid prices like—ten cents a pound for butter, eight cents a dozen for eggs, fifteen cents a bushel for potatoes, twenty-five cents a bushel for apples. Shoes were handmade and cost about the same as they do now.

while a suit of clothes cost a month's wages or more.

"Sure, the prices were low, but times weren't so good. It took a lot of nerve to start out farming and raising a family when you didn't have any more income than that," Mr. Hockenberry says.

"But we did it, and we didn't think too much about it," Mrs. Hockenberry adds. "I don't think the youngsters have it so bad now. Just wait 'til they have fifty years to look back on—they won't think it was so bad."

Tifereth Club To Have Election

The meeting will close at 9 o'clock. Gus Slovinsky will conduct the meeting.

DOG REFUSES TO GIVE UP

LISBON, O., Nov. 29.—(INS)—It must be the Scotch in "Laddie" that accounts for his being alive today.

Apparently, Laddie, a Scotch terrier owned by Miss Mary Bruy, of Columbiana, felt he should be allowed to live his allotted span of life.

Last month, Laddie was run over by three automobiles. Miss Bruy, thinking her pet was done in, dug a grave. When she went to retrieve the "corpse," she was almost shocked out of her shoes when the dog jumped up and limped away.

A veterinarian found only a broken leg and minor internal injuries. Today Laddie is as good as new again, but he's not arguing with automobiles anymore.

ALBANIA SENDS PROTEST TO UN

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(INS)—The London radio said today that Albania has sent a new protest to the United Nations to complain of British action in sweeping up mines in the Corfu Channel without prior permission from Albanian officials.

SHOT BY FATHER-IN-LAW

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Cleo Wesley, 25, of Pittsburgh, was shot and killed today by his father-in-law, Coleman Shelton, 44, in the driveway leading to the Mercy Hospital emergency room, police reported.

Police said fifteen minutes earlier, Wesley's wife, Virginia, had been admitted to the hospital after she had been beaten by her husband.

Urges Congress To Abandon Its Closed Sessions

California Senator Wants All But National Security Meetings Open Affairs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Sen. Knowland (R., Calif.), demanded that congress carry out the spirit of its "streamlining" program and abandon the system of secret committee sessions on all but national security matters.

Knowland said he was more determined than ever to press for open committee meetings by the rash of closed-door sessions which ended in the senate war investigating committee calling off its trip to Germany.

Knowland was one of four Republican members of the committee who voted to carry out the investigation of military government in Europe. Six Democrats voted against the trip, with strong backstage support from the state department.

Knowland pointed out that the congressional reorganization act provides for open committee sessions, except where a committee by majority vote orders that they be closed to the public. And he said:

"I believe that the spirit of the reorganization act should be carried out. Committee sessions should be open to the press and public unless a matter of national security is involved."

"Representative government is being challenged in the world today. One of the best ways to combat that is to have an informed people."

Opposes Sessions
The young Republican senator said he had gone on record opposing some executive sessions of the war investigating committee during its recent tug-of-war over the German trip.

Sen. Lucas (D., Ill.), a member of the senate foreign relations committee, voiced a similar sentiment. Lucas said he thought "entirely too many" senate committee sessions were conducted on a closed-door basis.

The Democrat agreed that some questions involving the nation's economic and military security could only be considered behind closed doors at times.

Both Knowland and Lucas said they believed sessions of the appropriations committees, in which government departments "justify" their requests for funds, should be opened. They are now held behind closed doors.

The Californian insisted despite the war investigating committee's decision, that the German investigation was "a job that has to be done."

He contended, however, that occupation policies in Japan under Gen. Douglas MacArthur need no congressional inquiry.

Brackets Stalin Government With Hitler, Mussolini

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Newspaper Publisher Frank Gannett assailed Premier Joseph Stalin today as heading a government "just as dangerous to us as were Hitler and Mussolini."

Gannett told the Los Angeles Advertising club:

"I do not expect war with Russia immediately. Stalin is not ready for it but he is very busy with his plans. 'He may defer war until Russia has the atom bomb.'"

Gannett said he doubted the atom bomb could do heavy damage to Russia because of its few large cities. He declared on the other hand "Russia could do terrible damage to us by destroying our great industrial centers."

The newspaper publisher deplored "A widespread American attitude that 'It Can't Happen Here'."

He asserted: "We must realize that in case of war a few Communists in the country, through control of labor organizations, could paralyze the entire nation."

Alexander Wilson, early American naturalist, was attracted to bird study by the beauty of the red-headed woodpecker.

MAY LIFT BAN ON TWO PANTS SUITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29. — The Civilian Production Administration is thinking of lifting controls which prohibit two-pants suits and vests with the double-breasted kind, an official said. Also under consideration is removal of the restrictions on the design of work clothing. These are a part of CPA's remaining program for jinking industrial controls which officials say will be carried out gradually and without any wholesale action such as occurred with price ceilings.

COLLEGE MEN HAVE GOAL

ATHENS, O., Nov. 29. — (INS) — The modern college man no longer goes to school "just to be going." That's the conclusion of Ohio University Veterans Coordinator Victor Whitehouse. A survey conducted by Whitehouse among former servicemen at the Athens institution indicates six out of seven have a definite goal in mind. Veterans make up 81 per cent of 4,104 men enrolled at Ohio U. A spot check of the 2,477 non-veterans shows less than three-fourths had chosen a career. A cartographer is a maker of maps and charts.

Missouri Studies Safety Program Of State Department

Pleased With Pennsylvania Record,
Missouri Asks For Organizational Plan

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—The Missouri highway department has asked the Pennsylvania department of highways to outline its organization for a safety program among department employees.

In replying to the Missouri department, Pennsylvania officials pointed out that as a result of its safety activities compensation rates have shown a steady decline.

For the fiscal year that ended May 31, 1946, the premium rate of the Pennsylvania Department was $707, as compared with $963 in the previous year, and $964 in the twelve months ending May 31, 1944.

Compensation costs in the last fiscal year were $122,500, a decrease of $14,638.56, from the year which closed May 31, 1945.

The Pennsylvania department had 82 compensable accidents during the last fiscal year.

In Pennsylvania safety activities are centered under a safety director with five advisors who patrol the 11 engineering districts. These advisors investigate all lost-time accidents to department personnel. In addition they inspect all buildings, either owned or rented, to see that all unsafe conditions are removed. These inspections include sanitation, cleanliness and fire hazards.

The policy also in this state is to hold four safety meetings a year for the personnel in each county.

Complete first-aid equipment is furnished by the Pennsylvania department to all field forces. This equipment consists of goggles, bridge, quarry and forestry belts, men-working signs and flags.

Apple Crop Tops All Expectations

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Pennsylvania apples were so plentiful at harvest time that growers moved more than the usual amount to canneries, causing a glut some days at receiving platforms, the state department of agriculture reports following the monthly Federal-State survey of general Pennsylvania crop conditions on November 1.

Apples turned out considerably better this year than previously expected, the report revealed. The total commercial crop, as estimated when the harvest was nearly complete, will be 9,360,000 bushels compared with the very short crop of 2,400,000 last year and the 10-year average (1935-1944) of 8,832,000 bushels. Conditions during October were so favorable that the production estimate was boosted by 130,000 bushels over October 1, officials pointed out.

Experiments sponsored by the U. S. Maritime Commission may revolutionize the loading and unloading of American cargo ships and result in reducing handling costs as much as $1 or $2 a ton. If successful, the commission believes the attainment of the goal will constitute the biggest step forward in this field in the last century.

Babson's Suggestions On Shopping For Christmas

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 29.—I have just returned from Boston, where I attempted to do some Christmas shopping. To tell the truth, I did not buy anything but spent the entire day comparing the quality and prices of the various goods offered. As a result, I am now giving readers some good advice.

My home is about 15 miles from Boston. Not only are there many suburban towns around Boston, but I motor about considerably and visit various small cities in New England. I find that one gets as good values and at low prices by making purchases in northern small cities and towns as in the big cities. Of course, this may not be true in all states but I am sure it applies to Massachusetts. Take Gloucester, for instance, a city of 25,000, where my summer home is. Down there the other day I found better Christmas goods for less money than could be secured in Boston. Therefore, my suggestion is that you purchase your Christmas goods where you live. You often get better values by buying from home people whom you know. Moreover, you have the privilege of making returns and of getting replacements in the case of breakage which you may not get when dealing with green clerks with whom you are not personally acquainted.

Quality and Prices

Many big city stores are putting out a tremendous amount of junk this year. Department managers have been told that anything over a year old must be marked down to $1 in the stocktaking which will occur after Christmas. Hence, these managers are striving to get rid of the old stock and especially the adulterated and ersatz goods made during the war. Your friends will never thank you for any of this shoddy material. Insist upon quality or else give your friends a check or certificate which they can use next year for better goods.

Now, as to prices: I venture the forecast that Christmas prices will be the highest this year of any Christmas for many years to come. There have been price ceilings during the past few years on most of the goods in the stores. Now, these price ceilings have been taken off within the past three weeks. Many merchants have jumped at the opportunity to mark up goods for the Christmas trade. They realize that it is their one chance; yes, their last chance, to cash in at high prices. Therefore, I predict that after Christmas this country will see the greatest mark-down in history.

Why Not Give Money?

In view of the above, it seems as if cash is perhaps the best present we can give those whom we truly consider our friends. Hence, the purchase of an attractive Christmas card with a check or dollar bill enclosed should be the most welcomed by a wise recipient.

This will enable your friend to select what he or she wishes after the turn of the year at mark-down sales or else wait until the new, good-quality goods come on the market.

Now, a word to parents who have reached the age of the writer: The only two things of which we are absolutely sure are: (1) We are going to die before many years and (2) there will be a "death tax" on our estate running from 15-50 per cent according to how much money we leave to our wife, children or others. Yet, we can give $3,000 to each of these persons this Christmas without a penny of tax. I know it is difficult for us who have worked hard and been thrifty to give away $3,000 a year to each of our children—yes, awful hard! But if we have any sense we will do it even if we keep the money locked up so that the kids can't spend it until after our funeral!

One More Suggestion

I have a grandson who is away to school. When I asked him what he wanted for Christmas, he said, "Grandpa, I would like a subscription to our home newspaper." This seemed very sensible on the part of the boy and certainly it is an easy way to select a Christmas present for him. I wonder if every reader of this column hasn't some children, relatives or friends who would appreciate a subscription to the newspaper in which you read this advice.

Frances Chambers of Vancouver is a skillful cobbler and cannot understand why anyone should consider shoemaking an unusual occupation for women.

ORDER RETURN OF PROPERTY

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 29.—(INS)—A Hellertown father has been ordered by the Northampton county Court to return to his son property the veteran deeded to him before entering the armed service. The father, Robert J. Burns, denied the claim of his son, Leonard R. Burns, that he refused to turn it back when the son was discharged. The father claimed bonafide interest in the property because, he said, he paid off the mortgage, paid the taxes and gave his son money to buy another property.

Wabash Bears Defeat Alliance Gridders 12 To 7

Tanner-DeCaprio Score For Bears In Turkey Battle

Crowd Of Over 4,000 See Semi-Pro Stars In Holiday Game At Stadium

C. Tanner Thrills Fans With 96-Yard Touchdown Run, Blue Scores For Alliance

Before a happy Thanksgiving Day crowd of over 4,000 fans, the Wabash Bears semi-pro football team of Mahoningtown defeated the Alliance A. C. at Taggart Stadium Thursday 12 to 7 as "Gabby" DeCaprio and "Chuck" Tanner, the latter racing 96 yards, gave the Bears their stunning win, the third of the season that has now ended. The Wabash Bears realized quite a nice sum for their new club rooms and President William Domenico was very grateful at the satisfying turnout for the holiday classic. Coach Tippy Richards, presented a very formidable Bears team for the edification of the fans and Alliance furnished a lot of opposition, especially in the second half.

DeCaprio Scores First One
The game yesterday added prestige for a semi-pro league here next year, the plans of which have already been drawn up, with leading teams in the district participating, including the Bears.

The Bears had a score in the first period before many of the fans had settled into their seats. Alliance received and after finding the going tough, kicked to the Bears on the 12 to 7. In the second period, the Bears, aided by nice broken field running by Sammy Ciaza, son worked the ball to the one-yard line after a 19-yard dash by Ciaza, and DeCaprio carried over from the one for the score. Ernie Adamo's extra-point try was blocked. The first period ended with the Bears in front 6 to 0.

Scoreless Second Period
There was no scoring in the second period, the Bears at two different stages worked the ball to the Alliance 20 and 22 but could get no farther. The Alliance team did not seem to click well in the first half, and were never in the Bears territory.

Gabby DeCaprio having received a severe face injury (requiring eight stitches) in the first period after he had cracked the Alliance line for the first touchdown was missed by the Bears offense in the remainder of the game.

The first downs in the first half read three apiece. The field was just a little bit soggy in spots after a rain Wednesday making the footing precarious and the ball carriers slipped a good bit.

Tanner Races 96 Yards
Led by their scat-back, Valerio Galletti, the Alliance team came back for the third period a different ball club. Don Hole, the regular Alliance fullback, showed up at halftime and lost no time in donning a suit, his presence being felt in the Ohio lineup in the second half.

Taking the ball on a punt from Tanner on their own 38-yard line the Alliance team began a steady drive down field, led by Galletti and it looked like a touchdown was in the making for the invaders, but the stout-hearted Bears stiffened their defense when the Ohioans got to the 2-yard line and held. Alliance drew an offside penalty that hurt as they pounded at the Bears line. On fourth down, Hole faded back to the 10-yard line and heaved a pass that young "Chuck" Tanner, the big negro left end, got his hands on and set sail for the goal line 96 yards away as the entire Alliance team chased him. He outran the visitors and tallied what turned out to be the winning touchdown. Ernie Adamo again missed the extra point by placement. The third period ended with the Bears leading 12 to 0.

Alliance Passes Click
Opening up with a clever forward passing attack, Galletti to Ben Blue, the big negro left end, the Alliance team with just five minutes remaining to play took the ball from the Bears on their own 47-yard line and whipped it down the field on a series of well thrown passes with Blue and Brady on the receiving end and finally from the Bears five-yard line Hole passed to Blue who grabbed it back of the goal line. Galletti kicked the extra point, making it 12 to 7.

Alliance threatened again in the dying minutes of the game, Blue recovering a Bears fumble on the Bears 37 and a pass, Galletti to Blue, put the ball on the Bears 25 as the game ended.

Alliance Leads In Downs
In first downs the Alliance team had the advantage ringing up '13 while the Bears had six. The Bears sterling defense and great line led by Ralph (52) Tommelleo and Skip Russo held the Alliance team in check when it looked as if they might score.

Good Ball Game
It was a good ball game all the way with the fans thoroughly enjoying it. Alliance offered a lot of opposition that second half and outplayed the Bears at various times in the game, but the Coach Tippy Richards crew dug in and pulled it out of the fire when Alliance got hot, thanks to Tanner's sterling interception.

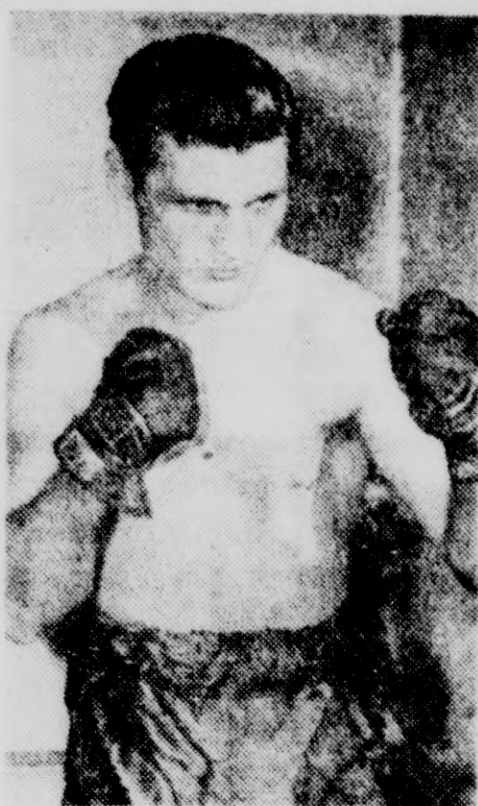

Prior to the game, between halves and during the game, Carl Leone and his "swing band" entertained the fans with classy renditions of popular and football numbers. The majorettes at the half made quite a hit with the fans by clever baton twirling.

Featuring the band presentation yesterday were five very lovely twirlers led by Drumm Majorette Ylma Vernard, with Delores Colafina, Harriet Burke, Carmella DeLorenzo, Olivia Palumbo, handling the twirling batons with real grace. Raymond Melchiorre offered a very pleasing trumpet solo.

Boxers In Quest Of Ring Fame

RUSSELL BAXTER

FRANKIE MORAN

Russell Baxter, New Castle middleweight and Frankie Moran, local southpaw in quest of the huge purses which repose at the end of the pugilistic rainbow.

Before going into military service, Baxter scored win after win in New York and the New England states. After his return from service he was going good in the east and south, but returned here, lost to Mike Berskovich and several nights ago drew with Al Powell at Youngstown.

He believes that, with lots of training with good sparring partners, and a bout each week, he will be able to again occupy the prominence he held prior to going into military service. He has lost only five of 48 pro bouts, according to his record.

Moran was one of the most sensational of amateur featherweights before he went into the army. Wounded in the elbow at St. Lo, he was hospitalized and after returning home he was a come-back.

Although a southpaw he knocked out his last two opponents and harkening to the advice of Baxter, agreed to accompany him to New York where both will box under the management of Al Lang who handles Sonny Horne. Baxter and Moran will train in Stillman's gymnasium.

RACES 108 YARDS TO SCORE
WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 29—(INS)—The 108-yard touchdown run of Anton Houlik as Wichita university defeated Arizona State 34 to 19, was the main topic of conversation today around the Wichita campus.

Veteran Team
Coach "Slim" Ransom of the valley college has a veteran squad and fans will see such aces as Guy Bennett, Bob Firestone, Bill Edwards, Dave Podolski and others. Also on the squad is Eddie Marich, leading schoolboy point-gatherer of last winter when with the Wampum Indians.

Main tilt will begin at 8:30 with a prelim scrap scheduled for 7:00. The first game will pair the junior teams of the Croton Methodist church against the Third U. P. juniors.

Agase, an army veteran of the Okinawa campaign, ranked as a standout lineman all season on the western conference championship team which was noted for its defensive ability.

He was selected by his teammates prior to the annual Illinois football banquet.

BAT MAKER CALLED

BELL BATTLES POZZA TONIGHT

Two Of Best Amateur Light-Heavies To Box At Ellwood

What may prove to be one of the best amateur light-heavyweight fights yet staged in this district, will be promoted tonight by the Dapper Dan club at Ellwood City, for the benefit of the Ellwood City High school football team.

Ike Bell, Youngstown, brother of Tommy Bell, will fight Bill Pozza, Ellwood City, one of the best amateur light-heavyweights in western Pennsylvania.

Pozza and Bell have fought here. Fans yet remember Ike Bell's tornado-like win over Don DeGenther of Pittsburgh and of the different times that Pozza's slugging has brought him victory.

Mouzon Suffers Injury To Eye

Doctor Orders Young Defeated Challenger To Lie On Back For Two Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29—(INS)—A possible end to 19-year Wesley Mouzon's boxing career was foreseen Wednesday as physicians disclosed the negro lightweight suffered a severe eye injury in his unsuccessful bid Tuesday night for Champion Bob Montgomery's title.

Mouzon was kayoed in the eighth round of the carded 15-round match at Convention Hall, but the injury was not discovered until physicians conducted a post-bout examination.

Dr. Ralph Lanciano, an eye specialist and physician for the state athletic commission, said Mouzon suffered a hemorrhage which caused a retinal detachment.

Must Lie On Back
"I've ordered him to lie on his back for two weeks to permit the blood to drain from behind the eyeball," Dr. Lanciano said.

If the blood does not drain in that time and permit the retina to reattach itself, the physician continued, surgery will be the only other possibility of restoring Mouzon's full vision—and his ring career.

Dr. Lanciano said the separation and hemorrhage was caused by a blow to the head, but not necessarily a direct hit on the eye.

Mouzon said he did not recall any eye failure during the bout.

UCLA Designated As Coast Team In Rose Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29—(INS)—The University of California at Los Angeles Wednesday was officially designated to represent the Pacific Coast conference in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena next January 1.

U. C. L. A., undefeated in nine games, was an automatic selection to play in the New Year's day classic against either Illinois or Michigan of the Big Nine conference.

Victor O. Schmidt, Coast conference commissioner, said the routine nomination of the Bruins was made by a telegraphic vote of conference representatives.

U. C. L. A. clinched the Coast conference title last Saturday by defeating Southern California 13 to 6.

Yesterday's clash in Memorial stadium before the season's largest collegiate crowd.

Governor Martin Will See Classic

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29—(INS)—You might have guessed that Gov. Edward Martin, veteran of 48 years in war and peace time armies and a retired major general, would be named on the Coast side of the fight for the Army-Navy tilt.

"It doesn't make any difference to me," he grinned. "I have tickets anyway."

Williams Great Despite Recent Series Throttle

Cardinals Just Wouldn't Let "Ted The Great" Hit Them, Which Is Honor

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The selection of Ted Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, and Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals as the most valuable players of the major leagues for 1946 must meet with the approval of all on-lookers.

The baseball writers in the major league cities do the voting and generally come up with the logical men for the honor. The only drawback to all this is the fact that world series does not enter into the selection.

Seasonal Performance
The picks are based strictly on the seasonal performance, which probably is fair enough. A man might actually qualify as a most valuable player in his league for a team which fails to get in the world series.

In the case of Williams and Musial, both of their teams got into the world series—and Musial slightly overshadowed his more illustrious opponent.

Still I believe any baseball man would take Williams over Musial if he had a choice between the two. This is no reflection on Musial. He is a tremendous ball player. They moved him in from the outfield to first base and he was somewhat better than adequate there with a pennant winner and an eventual world series winner. He led both leagues in hitting with an average of .365 and was one of baseball's shining lights all season.

Touch Of Class
But Williams has that extra touch of class which sets him apart. He is the most talked about ball player of this era. He also is a tremendous hitter and potentially the greatest hitter of all times.

He is the kind of ball player that will attract customers through the turnstiles. They will pay their way in just to see him belt one, or because they love him or hate him. In the latter case they will pay their way in to boo him.

Hits Them Farthest
But whatever they may say about Williams and no matter how the Musials and the rest may be compared to him, he can hit a baseball farther and more often than any other player in the game today. That may be belied by current averages. But he has that one thing going for him which makes great and glamorous athletes: He can do it next year.

Moreover, the fact that during the world series he was the one guy the pitcher set about stopping was something of an honor to his batting prowess. That put in him the category of Ruth and the others who were super-super up at the plate.

Was Feared Man
Come to think of it, his being a world series flop was something of an honor. They set out to make him a flop by either walking him or pitching so carefully to him that he couldn't hit. He was the one man that worried them.

He undoubtedly is most valuable in his league and perhaps in both leagues. As I was saying, ask any baseball man which of any number of players he would rather have on his club.

If he has a rival it is Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. He had a bad year last year because of injuries, but remains the one man that might be picked over Williams.

GUERRILLAS ROUTED
LONDON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Athens dispatches reported today that Greek guerrillas had cleared guerrilla forces from the areas of Kozani and Grevena in western Macedonia.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(INS)—

Next to the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the man who has wielded the most influence for the good of baseball is Judge William G. Braham and if he resigns as head of the minor leagues they are going to miss him.

Judge Braham is expected to step down at the Los Angeles meetings next month because of ill health, and there is a hot tussle on among baseball people seeking to have a hand in selecting his successor. For the good of the game, the rotund current czar of the minors should cross them up by deciding to stay in office.

Has Done Swell Job
This is no reflection on the many proposed candidates for his job, but he has handled it so ably for so long that a change in administration can scarcely be an improvement. One suggested solution is to give him adequate personnel to enable him to take it easy while running the great and growing network of minor league circuits.

Judge Braham lost his strongest supporter when stout-hearted old Judge Landis died, and not so long afterward a push was started to get him out. Without the high commissioner to support him, they came close to unseating him, but when he began to hit back the opposition froze up and ran off.

Outsmarted Majors
Some of the majors were accused of trying to get rid of him and install a less Landis-like man to run their farm systems. He whipped them to a frazzle.

Certain of our baseball people never sat through a more blistering denunciation than the one Judge Braham levelled at them, when he got around to that particular item of business. I had been tipped off that he was going to light some firecrackers and attended the session in the New Yorker hotel that day.

He started by blasting all the sundry who had campaigned behind hotel lobby pillars against him, then when he had told them off to the point where some had shrunk to the size of midgits, he pulled the book on them, and showed them that he was operating under the rules of baseball as written and adopted by the people who would out him.

Fearless Worker
The point at issue had to do with the proxy votes cast in his behalf by temporarily disbanded leagues during the war, as I recall the involved baseball tangle, and when it was all over he was back in and the major leagues still had to toe the mark.

That has been the great difficulty between such rulers as Landis and Braham and the major leagues, the business of making the majors observe the rules.

Judge Braham handles the minors, but he has been a fearless and painstaking worker.

Thinks Big Nine Facing Problem With Bowl Game

Lawton Carver Challenges Amateur Status Of Players Appearing In Rose Classic

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Now that the Big Nine has sewed up the Rose Bowl for the next five years, what do the educators of the Big Nine football foundations plan to do for the players themselves?

Will the members of the Big Nine teams who play in the Rose Bowl be paid a fair wage for their services, and what is a fair wage? Up to now the Big Nine's plan is to have its winning club grab that $100,000 for appearing in the Rose Bowl and cut it up among the schools and the conference.

The players are supposed to be in there playing as amateurs for professional schools. I doubt that this will work out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Confronted By Problem
The Big Nine schools may find themselves confronted by the same problems that caused such a furor at Fordham and the University of Pittsburgh when these football institutions of the past were in the business for gate receipts.

Fordham's players struck after a bowl game for $100 and when given only $50 went on mouthing that Fordham was the cheapest football institution in the land. Pittsburgh's players took much the same attitude and the agitation at both schools was such that they are practically without football now.

A team gets around $100,000 for playing in the Rose Bowl. It seems that there should be enough in that bundle to give each kid some pocket money like, say, $500. But that probably would be asking too much. The Big Nine did not sew up the Rose Bowl to go giving the money away to irresponsible football players who would only get into trouble spending it.

Army Shut Out
The Big Nine managed to shut Army out of the bowl and in so doing with a five-year contract not only proved itself to be the most highly commercial football factory in the business but also one of the most powerful.

The one big question is will they pay those kids for dying for good Alvin Karpis's hundred grand, or will they be so hogish as to grab it all for the school exchequer?

There should be a law against what a kid can be asked to do in return for an education.
